Outline of the project idea	Background	Regione Piemonte is far-back engaged in order to support the diffusion of sport practice among its citizens, not just about the promotion of great events, but especially about the development of a culture of health, wellness and correct lifestyle. Walking is growing all around Europe as an instrument of health safeguard and prevention of widespread pathologies: metabolic (i.e. diabetes), cardiac, circulatory and some cancer forms. Walking is no more just a kind of stroll, running is no more just linked to agonistic competitions: they are going to become an articulate motor-sport activity, simple and suitable for a great number of people, involving themes like people's and cities' quality life. Torino and Piemonte are leaders in specific projects in the field of mass non agonistic sport practice, such as Fitwalking and the international Turin Marathon who has managed several not competitive activities.
	Objectives	to promote voluntary activities, social inclusion, equal opportunities in sport activity through marathon and fitwalking to increase participation in physical activity at European level throughout cities/villages to develop innovative tools and info about the benefits of sport activity for prevention of the most widespread pathologies to create a network of organization for future collaboration, good practice exchange and contacts
