Teachers dare: unforgettable lessons, Anna Kolbuszewska

When we think „creative” or „interesting”, we don’t usually think „Use of English”. Yet Use of English gives the teacher and the students much more scope to deal with language in unexpected, creative and interesting ways than other Matura exam parts.

It gives teachers and students:

- the freedom to play with language,
  - to explore relationships between elements of language,
  - to make lessons focussing on Use of English simply unforgettable by daring students to look beyond what they see on a page.
- In this practical session we will look together at how we can fully exploit existing Matura preparation materials to make sure that students stay fully motivated and that teaching Use of English for Matura is as effective as it is fun.

Facts and myths of using technology in teaching, Marek Jędryka

To be or not to be on friendly terms with technology is the question teachers are asking today. Some have already jumped into the ocean of apps, gadgets, and devices and are not even thinking of swimming back to the shore of analogue teaching. Others have remained sceptical and wary of digital dementia and prefer to rely on traditional techniques.

Regardless of where you are, what your attitude is, and what you can already do with technology to help your students, do join us for this session to find out the facts and myths related to the use of digital resources in ELT.

The session is ideal for those teachers who are looking for reliable information on specific ICT (Information and Communication Technologies) solutions tested by hundreds of teachers and thousands of students. What is a fact, what is a myth? Come over and find out!
